Module 4 Rationale:

I spent a lot of time thinking about the content, structure as well as the design of my portfolio prior to sketching sitemap and navigation. In the beginning, I have a lot of great ideas for appealing more audience of my portfolio. However, I ultimately give up my previous thinking, because it is difficult for readers to catch up the main idea of my portfolio if I put so many things in the home page altogether. Overall, I just want to put three primary link in my home page, which are "Resume", "Writing", and "About." For the Writing section, I want to show my personal blogs so that indicate my personalities in a more perspective way. Besides, it is also a good way to enrich the content of my portfolio to some degree. On the other hand, the color is another essential factor, I am going to utilize the azure as my base color in order to accord with the main circumstance of my portfolio. And then, the template I chose was also able to help me emphasize the thesis actually. Both the home page and secondary page, I want to use a series of images to decorate in order to increase the readers' interests for reading more.
